Exciting Fly Fishing Adventures with

"The Italians"

This month we are going to see fun excerpts from arguably the world's best produced, most entertaining, informative and lovely-to-look-at TV series that specializes in fly fishing adventures around the globe. We will be welcoming back to SoCal our Rome-based good friends (along with their energetic personalities), Marica Cicoria and Alberto Salvini. Nine years ago, Alberto and Marica toured our SoCal fly fishing clubs and showed excerpts from their amazing fishing in Mongolia, as well as a great segment on Martha's Vineyard. Shortly after that trip, they started their own company, "The Italians," with the aim of producing "Pescavventura," a travel/documentary series on fly fishing adventures around the world. This series was first televised on the satellite channel "Caccia e Pesca" on Sky Channel 235-236. Since then, they have completed and shown 64 episodes of their acclaimed TV series and we are going to see clips from the "best of the best." Some places will be more thoroughly covered (such as Texas kayak fishing, Austria spring creeks and the beauty of Italian countryside streams and lakes) than others, but we will also

President's Message for November

Fall is a favorite time of the year for many of us. I hope you have had an opportunity to wet your line in your special fishing spot, enjoyed the fall colors and breath in the crisp air. For myself, this time of year reminds me of my childhood. Bundling up before going outside, playing in the falling leaves and hanging out with family and friends

So, I am going to say it, get ready..... THE HOLIDAYS ARE COMING... This is the time of the year that most of us will be spending special time our loved ones. Celebrating life, being thankful for our health and what we have, and praying for those less fortunate. With that being said, we will be taking donations for Thanksgiving baskets at the next meeting Wednesday November 13th. There will be a donation jar on the registration table as you come in the pavilion. For just $15.00 you can help feed a family of four for the holidays. These donations will be given to the Orange County Food Bank where they will provide a family with a dinner filled with turkey and all the trimmings.

Not only will we be taking donations for Thanksgiving but we will again be taking donations of toys but this time we will take them to the "Spark of Love" when Garth Kemp comes to Angel Stadium. If you would like to join me when I deliver the items, please let me know.

As the holidays get closer, be looking for a FFCOC ballot coming to your mailbox. We need you to vote on some amendments we are making to the by laws that will update our policies and procedures to update some of the ways we communicate with our members and to update some of our member type definitions. Please be sure to vote as soon as possible

Speaking about voting, we will also be voting for the 2014 Board of Directors. If you are interested in taking a position on the board and to help plan and organize our club, please let John Williams know of your interest. We are looking for club members interested in positions such as; membership, webmaster and assisting with the TIC program. We hope we found someone for the Webmaster position – Victor Raphael. Remember not all these positions require you to attend monthly Board of Directors meeting so any volunteerism will be greatly appreciated.

Did someone say they would like to help the club out and volunteer? Well I recently received a request from a local school teacher asking if we had any members that would be interested in giving a presentation on casting, fly tying to a class of 7th graders at Hewes M.S. in Tustin. It is a Physical Education Class and the focus is on individual and dual sports. If you would like to chair a committee to put this together, please let me know and I will provide you with the teachers contact info.

Here is wishing you all health, happiness and peace for the upcoming holidays.

President's Annual Outing 2013

Thank you for making this year's Annual President's Outing a success. Twenty Four FFCOC club members and their families converged on the Kern River for delicious dinners, challenging fly fishing and best of all great camaraderie. Some of us arrived on Thursday while the majority of the club members arrived on Friday. We met across the street at Cheyenne's for our Friday night dinner. We all had fun discussing where we would fish on Saturday or if we already had wet our lines in the water. I was one of the lucky ones to brag about catching some fish, including a nice 18" Kern River Rainbow and yes, I do have a photo to prove it.

Saturday found many of us up early enjoying a great breakfast across the street and at the RiverKern Deli. There is something to be said to waking up to clean air, sharing breakfast in the outdoors with close friends and the sound of the river flowing in the background.

We all went our separate ways to enjoy a day on the 20+ miles of the river. Honey Burns and I met up with Dawn and Vern Martin along with Doug Jones to head up the trail at the Johnsondale Bridge. The hike was so beautiful. We hiked in about an hour and then made our way down to the water to enjoy the fly fishing. Doug hooked into a fish with one of his first casts. The rest of us were not so lucky. However on our way back we were able to view some nice size rainbows flaunting their sizable bodies in crystal clear water, as if to say,,, hahaha you can't catch us. They taunted us as we evaluated the terrain to see if there was anyway of getting down to the water. A very steep and extremely smooth granite surface prevented us from reaching the prime fishing hole. We finally had to give up and head back to the cars as I had a lot of work ahead of me.

Back at the lodge, my cooks Scot Lewis and Jim Edwards were already preparing the chicken to be smoked. Scot loves his Traeger Grill. If you need a good smoking recipe talk to Scot. Setup went smoothly, this year we moved our gathering to the front of the lodge where there was more room for tables and better cooking area from my guys. The food started coming out, with all kinds of yummy appetizers such as barbecued meatballs, vegetables and dips, different kinds of smoked fish, sausage with cheese dip and Len's Cowboy Caviar.

Scot and Jim, did a phenomenal job preparing our main course. Nice chicken and thick juicy rib eye steaks. The meal included huge baked potatoes, rolls, a great assortment of salads. Plates were piled high with oh so delicious food. Wine and beer were the drinks of choice, as for me I had a stiff can of Sprite being the hard core drinker that I am. Oh and did I tell you about the yummy Rice Krispy treats that the Kwon family brought. They were packaged individually with our logo inserted in the packaging as well. Thank you so much Kwon family, they were definitely a treat. There was also cookies, pies and cakes for dessert.

We finished the evening off with a group photo. I want to thank all who were able to attend, especially our special member Ray Johnson who has not missed a President's trip in years. I hope that you can attend next years Presidents outing as it is a great annual outing for all.

Flies That Keep Giving

By John Williams

Many Years ago I used to travel by horse back and pack the Sierra's. I saw a tying material that was free and everywhere if you wanted it. Horse hair, tail and mane hair comes in several natural colors and is free if you want to travel to a stable. I have found Tandy Leather a reliable source and the stuff is clean, not like the stable variety. What can you tie with horse hair, great midges?

Banner Midge (my horse's hair)

(Scanned #18 the post doesn't scan.)

Hook: TMC 2488 #16-20
Thread: UTC 70 Black
Post: Antron Yarn fibers
Body: One light one dark horse tail fiber
Hackle: Grizzly Saddle feather sized to match hook

Start the thread at the eye and run it back $\frac{1}{4}$ of the way. Tie in the post leaving it extend the length of the lower hook point shaft and cutting the rest off just behind the tie in point. Tie in the horse tail fibers and warp over them to the middle of the bend and run your thread to the tie in point. Counter warp the horse hair forward to the tie in point and tie off with several wraps of thread. Tie in the hackle and make three to four warps and tie off. Whip finish and head cement.

This is a secret fly I've been holding many years.

Tight Lines, John

Fall 2013 FFCOC Fly Tying Classes

By Cheryl Moore

I can't believe that we are in the process of winding up our 2013 fly fishing year. Sure seems like we were just looking for the early spring rises. Our 2013 Fall fly tying classes have gotten off to a great start. We have twenty-five students signed up and an exceptional line up of guest tyers that are scheduled to share their tying talents with us.

One of our all-time favorite tyers, Greg Cooke, started us off with his offering of five very effective flies. Greg has been tying flies for over twenty years. During his teen years, he was a professional production tyer. Greg brings not only talent but enthusiasm to our tying students. The photo at the bottom of this article are some of the flies that Greg Cooke taught his students how to tie.

Our next guest tyer is our own Richard Fanning. Rich has been one of the leaders of the FFCOC for quite a while and was President of our Board of Directors in 2011. Richard is a very creative tyer. He is also known for his wood working skills. The REI/Tustin store continues to be our favorite meeting place. Not only is REI/Tustin centrally located, it offers enough room so we can have four different groups of tyers. A great big THANK YOU to REI for hosting our fly tying classes.

With all of the fall holidays fastly approaching, go out and enjoy the great outdoors while you can. There is not much that can compete with a great day streamside.

Happy Holidays.

SAN JUAN RIVER, NEW MEXICO

April 12-16 2014

Last year fourteen club members and family traveled to Aztec, New Mexico to fish the San Juan River, and we had a great trip. We are planning a return trip in 2014 and now is the time to get your name on the list for some fantastic fishing.

The San Juan River is located in Northwest corner of New Mexico, about 20 minutes from Aztec, New Mexico. The San Juan River is a tailwater, famous for it's large fish, eating tiny midges and baetis mayflies. It fishes well year round trip. Guide prices are $375 for two people/full day and lodging is 85-90/night for two people. Participants can elect to use a guide for 1-3 days or wade on their own, all or some of those days.

If you have never fished the San Juan River before, it is recommended that you use a guide for at least 1-2 days. Participants have the options of A. driving (750 miles=12 hours), B. flying to Farmington, New Mexico (about $462 with two stops) and driving to Aztec (about 20 miles) C. flying to Albuquerque ($360-$410) and driving to Aztec (about 3 hours). Let's Do It Again

By John Williams

This year has been quite rewarding, I have fished on mountain tops in two states stumbled around streams and rivers and had a wonderful time. This year I was stream keeper on four outings and found them trying and wonderful all on the same trips but when it is all said and done I had a wonderful time. In 2014 I will be stream keeper on the same four outing to see if the magic still works. The first trip will be a Pack trip into the Ansel Adams Wilderness July 7-1, 2014 to fish for golden's, brookies and rainbows. In back of the pack trip starting the same ending day is Hot Creek Ranch July 11-14, 2014 Dry fly fishing at it's most demanding (educated fish). September is a special month we will have two trips back to back in Southern Utah, September 15th-19th and 22nd-26th 2014, a chance to catch seven species of fish and all within a fifty mile radius of Loa Utah. Our Vice President will have thing in order while we are off playing.

The Advantages of Joining a Club Outing

By John Williams

There are many great fishing locations to choose from and some are destinations the club has a stream keeper working with, if not on one of these outings the stream keeper is a great resource to contact about this location. This year our club has 16 outings with great diversity, from San Diego and other salt water outings to Largo Fig a small lake near wine country, The Sierra's and Hot Creek Ranch to a pack trip which gets you away from the crowds. All you need do is check out our outings schedule on our website or take a look at your newsletter, look to see who the stream keeper is and contact them; they are all knowledgeable and enjoy helping members. Most of our stream keepers have many years of fly fishing experience and are will to help you find a location suited to your needs. If you have any questions please feel free to call me (951) 236-0862

Membership Drive Free Dinner!!!!

You ask how you get a free dinner. Very simply, recruit a new FFCOC club member during the months of September, October, November or December and you will be rewarded with a Free Dinner Gift Certificate that will be valid for any dinner meeting through January 2014. For each new member you recruit you will be awarded a Free Dinner Gift Cor-ticated. That's right! As simple as that!

We would like to share our love of Fly Fishing with other interested fisherman or potential fisherman while also building our membership.

There are a couple of guidelines you must follow:

1. New member cannot have been a past member since 2010.
2. You cannot recruit your immediate family members.

'WAYPOINTS' FLY-FISHING FILM TO PREMIER IN SO. CALIF. NOV 8

Waypoints – the latest fly-fishing film from the producers of the angling adventure motion pictures Drift, Rise and Connect – will be premiered in Southern California, Nov. 8 at two locations: Cal State University Northridge's Little Theater and Starplex Cinema, LaMirada.

Both showings are at 7 p.m. Tickets are priced at $13.

The fly fishing film is being presented by The Fishermen's Spot, Van Nuys; and Bob Marriott's Fly Fishing Store, Fullerton. Tickets may be purchased on-line at www.ticketriver.com (enter "Waypoints" in the search) or at either fly-fishing shop.

Waypoints transports the viewer to some of the most remote locations in the world, from the high altitude rivers of the India-Nepal border, to the flats of St. Brandon's Atoll in the Indian Ocean.

Locations for the 65-minute production include:

- ◆ * St. Brandon's Atoll in the Indian Ocean for giant trevally;
- ◆ * Uraima Falls in Venezuela for trophy payara;
- ◆ * The India-Nepal border for golden mahseer;
- ◆ * Southeast Alaska for steelhead; and
- ◆ * Patagonia Chile for trout.

"Waypoints highlights some of the sport's most colorful characters and destinations, capturing these stories on location with the best shooters in the business using the best modern HD digital equipment," said Jim Klug, producer/writer and founder of the travel agency Yellow Dog Fly Fishing Adventures.

All profits will be donated to the Southwest Council, International Federation of Fly Fishers for their programs in fly fishing outreach, conservation and education. SWC-IFFF is a 501 (c)(3) non-profit.

December Meeting Super Raffle

- ◆ $100 gift certificate to Bob Marriott's
- ◆ Echo 3 11' 7wt switch rod, value $450

see trout fishing in Idaho, Montana and Ohio as well as great footage from Cuba, Zambia, Sri Lanka, Iceland, Denmark and Slovenia. And don't worry about having to brush up on your Italian. Everything shown will have a sound track in English, or Marica herself will be narrating live (yes, in English) a number of the-chosen-just-for-us clips. Alberto and Marica have, for more than two decades now, been traveling and fishing around the world and been expert guides for many waters in the USA, particularly in the West. Since 2000 they have been promoters and guides for the freshwater frontier of Mongolia and of special saltwater fishing in the tropical waters of the Maldives and the Seychelles. In Italy they participate in seminars and teach at fly fishing schools for many different clubs and associations. Together they work to promote all aspects of fly fishing, offering their expertise as freelance journalists, photographers, instructors, keynote speakers at clubs and shows, consultants for international companies in the fly fishing market, and testimonials for important fly fishing products. Moreover, they regularly attend the world's most important meetings and workshops to widen their experience and support the fly fishing philosophy of conservation, education and catch-and-release. To learn more about these talented fly fishers, go to www.theitalians.net

Personal Details - Alberto Salvini

Alberto was born in 1962 and started fishing at five with his two uncles Pino & Tony de Angelis, Italy and World champions of fishing in the '60s and '70s. He has been fly fishing and fly tying since 1981 and has been extensively traveling, first as a fashion model for Gucci, Valentino, Armani and Versace (just to name a few) and then as a marketing director for his family company that specializes in lottery technologies. During his trips he never forgot to bring his fly fishing gear with him, and he had the pleasure to test the most famous fresh and salt waters around the world across many countries, including most of the United States, Canada, the Bahamas, Cuba, the Antilles, Barbados, Belize, the Dominican Republic, Chile, Argentina, Ireland, Great Britain, Iceland, Sweden, Norway, Germany, Spain, France, Corsica, Austria, Slovenia, Italy, Greece, Malta, Nigeria, Zambia, Sri Lanka, the Maldives, the Seychelles, Mongolia, Australia and New Zealand. In 1995 Alberto decided to turn his passion for fly fishing into a career, so he began writing and taking photos for several Italian and international fly fishing magazines as a freelance journalist. Moreover, he received many invitations as a "guest star" in video series on fly fishing for international media networks. From 1996 to 2000 he appeared as a special guest star in the TV show "Seasons," broadcast by D+, the first European satellite channel dedicated to fishing and hunting, as a fly fishing expert and contributor. Over the years, he has become a fly tying designer for the US manufacturing company Rainy's, Inc., and a designer of fly fishing tools and gears for several international companies.

Professional Experiences

2011 - Present Author for the TV show "Lei pesca Lui cucina," a first-time co-production between the Sky TV channels "Caccia e Pesca" (235-236) and "Gambero Rosso" (411). 1999 Winner of the "Top Journalist Cup" at the international event of "Lough Arrow" 1999 Sligo, organized by North West Ireland Tourism Office.

1997 Alberto was the first Italian participant at "The World Invitational Bonefishing Championship" 1997 in the Bahamas Islands.

Personal Details – Marica Cicoria

Marica graduated at the National Academy of Dance in Rome, Italy, in 1989. She spent several years in showbiz -- dancing, singing and acting for musicals and dubbing for movies. In 1993, she began fly fishing and sharing Alberto's fly fishing and documentary activities. Since then she has been traveling and fly fishing across the world's most challenging waters. Her area of expertise includes filming, writing, taking photographs, producing and being a co-host and co-producer with Alberto of the fly fishing series "Pescavventura." Marica has been an active member of the Federation of Fly Fishers (FFF) since 1995, attending and contributing to workshops and programs. Marica is also an FFF Certified Casting Instructor. She enjoys teaching to children and ladies in order to introduce them to this active sport and help them love the fantastic experience of fly fishing.
